GEORGES KASSAGBI

WHAT GAVE YOU THAT IDEA?
Rediscovering The Development of Our Worldviews
by Georges Kassabgi
The author invites us to think anew about fundamentals, assumptions, starting points, primal nonmaterial/material interactions—common to all that exists—with due consideration of classical philosophy, religion, and the scientific method. A multidisciplinary study project is recommended. With this essay, he connects anew these three frameworks of thought so as to improve the outcome of discussions about some big life challenges—in our only world.
In the follow-up “Postscripts” (2018), Kassabgi shares his exchanges with readers including academic scholars, and debates war and peace (with new emphasis on the natures of humility for all—as an adendum to the experts’ peace plan) in an article presented at a U.N.-sponsored Peace Management Award ceremony in Rome University (November 2013).
